DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of group I in the reply filed on 10/19/2007 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 6-9, and 12-15 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of copending Application No. 10/483,796. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they encompass the same limitations as the current claims except they claim a metal or semiconductor instead of the specific elements claimed in the current application which would be obvious in view of the generic claims of Application No. 10/483,796.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 6-9 and 12-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kawamura (US 6,706,431).

6. Kawamura teaches a fuel cell having an electrode or catalyst formed from nanohorns and also comprising fullerene encapsulated Lanthanum (abstract and column 4 lines 15-20, 45-50). Since the material is formed into an electrode using glue to adhere the electrode together, and the inherent tendency of carbonaceous materials to conglomerate together via Van Der Waals forces, the Lanthanum filled fullerene and hence the Lanthanum would be considered to be deposited on the single walled nanohorn, or in the alternative, it would be obvious to provide a single walled nanohorn with Lanthanum in order to maximize catalytic effect of carbon material. The addition of Lanthanum to fullerenes and other family of carbon allows the composite to function as a hydrogen storage electrode (column 4 line 50-60).

7. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to optimize the percentage of Lanthanum in order to obtain the level of catalytic effect desired. It has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

8. Regarding claims 12-15, since the structures and compositions are substantially similar they would be expected to have substantially similar methane absorbing abilities.
